

Poster* Process Paper Guide for Elementary Students

One of the last items you'll complete on your NHD project is the Process Paper. Judges read the Process Paper to learn how you chose your topic; how you conducted your research; how you created your project; and how your topic connects to the theme. You can write your paper in full paragraphs or as answers to questions. You should provide details of your work. Use "I" statements, and show how your topic connects to theme. The chart below is meant to help you compose your sentences and put together your Process Paper. Remember that your Process Paper cannot be longer than 500 words.
